

NorthJersey.com

 PRINT THIS

 Click to Print

SAVE THIS | EMAIL THIS | Close

Local musician and choir have 1.4 million hits on YouTube
Wednesday, March 3, 2010
Neighbor News (Boonton Edition)

Boonton resident and musician Wayne Burcham-Gulotta's channel on YouTube has reached 1.4 million hits.

In July 2007 while music director and organist at Redeemer Episcopal Church in Morristown, he began posting his choir and organ music from there on YouTube. There are currently 274 videos.

"I was only expecting these to be viewed by some of our parishioners if they liked a particular piece of music one Sunday, or if they wanted to see what we did if they missed for some reason," said Burcham-Gulotta. "But these have now been seen 1.4 million times around the world in a relatively short time."

Burcham-Gulotta has received thousands of thanks from viewers because the music was used at their wedding, a family member's funeral, or simply because they enjoyed the music.

Burcham-Gulotta and his spouse, Joe, have lived in Boonton for eight years. They are active volunteers and members of the Boonton Historical Society and Boonton Main Street.

To see the YouTube videos, go to www.YouTube.com and search for "Redeemer Morristown" or go directly to www.YouTube.com/user/joenwayne.

Find this article at:

http://www.northjersey.com/arts\_entertainment/music/86110287\_Local\_musician\_and\_choir\_have\_1\_4\_million\_hits\_on\_YouTube.html